THEATRES

DOKE WASHINGTON THEATRE
VAUDEVILLE HAS PLENTY OF NOVELTIES

A good vaudeville bill with plenty of variety offers an entertaining show at the Booker Washington Theatre this week. Captain Mike is the captain there. She is a fluent talker and tells a humorous story or stories there. The boys in France to cheer them on. Miss Kemp comes along in her fur coat, but they get over her as ever. Kemp closes with a song "How Any Time," and adds a little dancin' Pug and Hattie are a pair of good entertainers. They have a line of comedy that the audience loves. The "Barber Shop" takes the stage by storm singing "Constantly" doing an eccentric dance. Miss Uff sees with a sweet liltiness. The girls in the "Garden of Eden" close with an eccentric dance scream. E. Alfred Dreyfus, styled the "Eccentric Jester," is a clever artist. The "Guitar Girl" is a girl who plays the guitar, sings and dances, but carries eccentricity with aero capes. Their closing piece is strumming along an organ and singing a novelty and well appreciated by the audience.

Easter and Stewart close the show. They are not much above the ordinary of male teams. Their conglomeration is a mystery. The pair includes a singer and dancer who indulges in a bit of acrobatics. He carries eccentricity with aero capes. Their closing piece is strumming along an organ and singing a novelty and well appreciated by the audience.

NOTHER DANCING TRIO AT BOOKER WASHINGTEN NEXT WK

The Nelson Trio, another sensation, dancing not will feature the vaudeville show at the Booker Washington theatre next week. There is a junior trio, too, and the girls have joined quite a stir throughout the city. Others on the bill will be "Buttermilk," a novelty act; Davis and Davis, dancing and Great Entertainers; and Corinne Griffith and Comedies.

He patrons will continue to draw air weekly "Pay" at the door on midnight.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

"Women Men Forget," "The Woman Who Walked Alone," Features At Come

Richard Barthelmess will be seen at "Comet Theatre this Saturday in 'comedy.' The story centers about the man's coming when Joe Hoboken, a soldier, returns from the war to find himself in for son for Sonny Crosby, who was killed in France. Something happened to the word in the story and his blood. Joe wouldn't have taken a job for anything but—there was his mother to care for. In turn of her son, a simple-sounding and intensely human appeal is outstanding features of a story of a midweek feature at the Comet will "Women Men Forget." The picture story told in this photoplay is one of the most touching features of her husband's love plans to gain it by unusual methods. It shows how this is dramatically and poetically featured in the direction of John M. Stahl, an original story by Elsie Stern. It is the sort of story that holds the audience from beginning to end, drawing up to a wonderful effective climax.

On Thursday and Friday, the feature will be "The Woman Who Walked Alone," featuring Dorothy Dalton. The picture produced by George Melford is lavishly invested, in particular with regard to the sets and lighting. The scenes are sweeping and long, and moves are smooth and flowing. The action is tremendous and exciting. The story is an English playboy who has been brought to South Africa as the woman who walks alone.

There she becomes involved in a series of highly exciting situations.

"Air Lady" and "The Symbol of The Unconquered" at Retina

On the program during the coming week will be "Cobweb," a romantic drama which will be presented next Thursday.

At the story goes, Norvin Blake, a Western American, tries to win a heart of a beautiful young woman by lavishing upon her the American man's chivalry at the expense of his wife. But when her jealous husband, a fellow Westerner, a polished foreigner, attempts to accomplish the same end by employing threatening force, Ciremunt, the woman's husband, is killed.

This mystery packages and notes sent a mysterious leader of mysterious society, a gangster, a criminal, by street bandits, and many more.

The intensity of the lawlessness groups in a mystery woman whose identity is still kept secret, even after eight years.

The Retina patrons will get an opportunity to see a revival picture Oscar Homma's excellent picture "The Symbol of the Unconquered" at the Retina next Friday.

"Step On It" and "Woman, Wake Up" at Star

Bert Dexter and Claire Windsor will be featured in "Grand Larceny" at the Star. This Saturday's star presents the heroine as a between two others. She happens to be married to one but has received a commandment against coveting her neighbor's wife. As may be used, the family is broken up. The son plays the husband's game for a while, but is finally willing to establish a fifty-fifty basis.

"The Primitive Lover" will be featured in "The Primitive Lover" at Star.

And "Larceny," "Step On It," and "Woman, Wake Up" at Star.

Billie Dove and Clark Gable will be featured in "Grand Larceny" at the Star.

"Step On It" and "Woman, Wake Up" at Star

Bert Dexter and Claire Windsor will be featured in "Grand Larceny" at the Star. This Saturday's star presents the heroine as a between two others. She happens to be married to one but has received a commandment against coveting her neighbor's wife. As may be used, the family is broken up. The son plays the husband's game for a while, but is finally willing to establish a fifty-fifty basis.

Sherie MacDonald will be seen in "The Woman's Way" on Thursday; and Louis Calhern in "The Scarf" will be on Friday.

"Idols" and "The Broken Silence" at The Casino.

In "Farnum in Strange Idols," the Caspino stars this Saturday. The story is of a young man who experiments diametrically—a rich lumberman from tree and a beautiful cabaret of gaudy New York girls. In the call of the wild finds a response and a girl to whom life is the art of living. The story is told in scenes of life—action scenes are obvious—and it is obvious that Dustin Farnum can handle the star role with great and genuine skill.

Curwood's "The Broken Silence" will be featured at the Casino on Sunday. The story is that of love and sacrifice, culminating in a dramatic episode in which comes as forcefully as a whirlwind. The story tells of a man, an officer in Royal Northwest Mounted Police, Jeanne Marat, Jeune, by the way, more than twice his age, who has come to the most remote Zenith, one of the most desolate districts before the camera to take the role of Bruce in the hands of Robert Elliott.

Of Gold," "The Scarf" and "Desert's Crucible" at the Casino.

Hart in "Lure of Gold" will be seen at the Casino. On Sunday Allan Dwan's "Beoffer" will be presented. Story concerns a physician and a shadowy character who, through a plot of fate unknowingly, marries former mistress of his son and falls in love with her. It involves many scenes of suspense, it resolves in a mighty big tidal wave that the emotions conceivable, especially when it is known that the man of the "beoffer" is not a man for a crime he did not commit.

It is the innocent who should be the innocent victim when coming to command and altogether erratic in his ways. The hand and comfort all good folk have not been withered, destined home to him through the medium of a girl who loves the man, but who is brought about in greatly augment the value of narrative as a human document.

Hoxie will be seen in "Desert's Crucible," a good, strenuous, breezy, fitting scene entertainment should make this picture which is a Ben production.

The Friendly Path—By John L. Lewis

HELP YOURSELF

MAN is in the world to overcome himself.

How often have you thought of this when finding fault with the world in general because you thought your luck was hard? It's a safe venture to guess that most unhappy persons never even consider their own positions from this angle.

Too many blame others for their misfortunes when they could find the fault at their own doors. Too many consider their luck bad when it is better than they deserve. If they recognized their own short-comings or tried to overcome them when acknowledging them, they'd frequently overcome their world handicaps.

If one starts out to get somewhere he isn't likely to reach his goal as quickly as he desires if he sits by the side of his pathway and hopes for some miracle to happen which will bring him to the desired destination without climbing up a hill.

The same rule applies all along the path of life. Just as one is likely to meet disappointment if he depends entirely on his luck, so he is almost certain to find his progress lagging if he waits for his fellowmen to show him the way. Those who become disengaged with the world need to remember that their own indifference, inaction or over-estimation of their powers, are the greatest stumbling-blocks in their paths.

If one wants a little help, the world will always help him more. Encourage by the Worcester Syndicate, Inc.

My roughed and powdered were sitting on the floor of the fat-laden room with one companion. We were seated in a mirror, of the vanity case variety, the other was pulling and pricking at her skin with a great big black-headed pin. I can just imagine what she was trying to assist her friend or sister, or whatever she was. Then there above the face and scalp. Then there are the numerous blood vessels in the skin of the face, through which the blood moves so regularly to the skin. And when you look at another person's face, you'll notice something else, and that is the pores of the skin. And keeping the supplies for the sebaceous and sudoriferous glands on hand, that, the oily matter which is secreted for preserving the vitality of the skin. When we complain of an oily skin or a profusion of perspiration, we do not stop to think how necessary these secretions are to the health, color and texture of the skin.

To begin, there are three layers of tissue to the face. There is the outer layer of sebaceous glands that block off the pores, which gives the skin its waxy appearance, and which may be shed easily. Beneath it lies the dermis, or true skin, a sensitive network of small blood vessels and nerves, with numerous blood vessels, nerves, and sebaceous glands. Below this lies the fat cells which beneath this is the foundation of the skin. To remove the fat cells we give it, by contrast, with the assistance of the padding of fat. Through the outer and true skin run many glands, one pores or tubes, the sweat glands, the oil glands, the sebaceous glands, and the glands for removing bloodstains. Don't attempt to massage them away. That's the easiest way to make them permanent guests.

Nobody seems to know what causes oil or whiteheads, but they all got them, and they all seem to have white elevations beneath the skin, we know not whence they came or why, but that they're here to stay awhile.

So, I have heard people say that you can't rid yourself of blackheads or whiteheads, we call them "pimples" and "zits," or "acne," or "pustules," and I sat down to find out, for the sake of science, and I sat there for a long time, and I had a peculiar feeling of sympathetic guilt for the woman who was picking and poking at her skin. You're not doing any good, I said to myself, and I hope that you'll stop reading this, for I shall try to tell you how to remove your skin.

I hope those things will help a little. The world will always help him more. Encourage by the Worcester Syndicate, Inc.

BREWSTER A WINNER

The Argus wishes to congratulate the workers and supporters of R. R. Brewster who was successful in winning the nomination as the Republican nominee for the United States Senate.

In recommending Mr. Brewster to the voters of the State, we stated that he was the logical candidate, and was by far the ablest among those who aspired for the office. We express modest pride in the fact that the people of the state have sustained our judgment of Mr. Brewster and have, by a large majority made him the choice of the Republican party of the state.

As in the past, the Argus felt it was its duty to advise the people along political lines and we wish to say, once more, that R. R. Brewster is able to fully measure up with Jim Reed, the Democratic candidate. We make this statement with the same assurance that we said Brewster would be nominated. So now that he has been nominated let all Republicans join the Argus in putting him over in November.

THREE MORE LYNCHINGS

Within a week's time three lynchings have been reported as having taken place in the South.

Texas has added another to her lead with Georgia and Arkansas following.

Nothing, as will be expected, will be done toward punishing those who participated in this popular pastime.

The lynching and burning of Negroes in the South is not a case of outburst of passion brought about or caused by some vicious crime. But it has become an established program of dealing with Negroes suspected of crime. Not alone are those suspected of mob-murder, but in many cases, absolutely innocent persons have been lynched and burned at the stake.

The several States where these outrages are committed in the name of "white supremacy," they have by inactivity or indifference declared their inability to deal with the situation, and have flatly denied the Negroes the equal protection of the laws as provided in the constitution of the United States.

President Harding and the present Congress know and are fully aware of this condition, yet Congress has thus far failed and refused to take any steps or enact sufficient adequate laws to protect the lives and property of the Negroes which are being ruthlessly taken without due process of law.

The Southern Senators and those who enjoy the lynching of the will be the first and loudest in their efforts to obstruct the measure, while others will consider it in the Senate.

The righteousness of the measure is so strong until the opponents find themselves without an excuse to oppose the bill, except to say it is unconstitutional without one scintilla of proof of their arguments.

The truth of the matter is, the lovers of the sport are those who hold human life wrapped in a dark skin cheap, want a little longer lease on mob-murder. They love the game.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS BUREAU

It is reported that a Republican Speakers Bureau will be opened in Chicago to carry on the Congressional and Senatorial campaign this fall.

We hope that chairman Adams will not make the mistake, that Mr. Hayes made, by selecting Henry Lincoln Johnson or Phil Brown as aides.

Of course Link will be hungry as usual because he has been unable to feed at the pie counter in a fat Federal job as he had expected during the first two years of the Harding administration. He has been judged unworthy.

If chairman Adams does not know what the thoughtful and self-respecting colored people think of these two "hanger-ons," he should make some inquiries.

Knowing Link Johnson and Phil Brown as they do, we hereby warn chairman Adams to stay clear of any dealings with them which has, for its purpose party success.

Politicians want to know who is L. H. Bradbury supporting now, since Sacks and Salisbury have been defeated. They say he may go back to the Democratic party.

We have no quarrel with those who differed with us in their choice for candidates, but oh! such lies some Negroes can tell.

We wonder how Mrs. Juanita Haleys feels since she felt called upon, and did tear from the walls of the Almac Hall one of Brewster's posters and trampled it under her feet? We guess her ability will be drunk with Sacks wine and beer, and hungry for his dollars.

Come on all you supporters of Salisbury and Sacks and get in the band wagon of Koehn, Schmoll and Brewster.

Rev. Crawford says when the Sacks crowd get wine and beer he would see to it that the editor of this paper wont get a drop — you can have our part, Rev. Crawford.

This Week

This space will be devoted each week to a discussion of community problems and current topics.

MAKING HAY

That the wheels of industry are turning again is a fact that better time or already at hand may be observed by a casual visit to almost any town in this country. The men and women who are southern states have they are now finding employment over a period of 40 years' building as at present.

The most encouraging thing about the return of normal times is the fact that many Negroes are being employed in the northern states, the big cities, the great industrial centers. They are now finding employment over a period of 40 years' building as at present.

The most encouraging thing about the return of normal times is the fact that many Negroes are being employed in the northern states, the big cities, the great industrial centers. They are now finding employment over a period of 40 years' building as at present.

Makes me certain to be revisited. But at what figure is uncertain. They're a gamble.

BREWSTER IS REP. NOMINEE FOR SENATOR

R.R. BREWSTER

It will be of special interest to the readers of the Argus to have this paper confirm the report that R. R. Brewster of Kansas City has been chosen as the regular Republican nominee for United States Senator of Missouri.

Well informed politicians agree that there never was a more popular and capable man than Brewster.

The fact is well known that Sacks' barrel was "tapped" in the real Berry fashion, and that money was freely drunk, sipped, snorted by Sacks' forces.

In fact the Brewster forces were courageous and made a strong fight against many odds. Brewster won.

Not alone are those suspected of mob-murder, but in many cases, absolutely innocent persons have been lynched and burned at the stake.

The several States where these outrages are committed in the name of "white supremacy," they have by inactivity or indifference declared their inability to deal with the situation, and have flatly denied the Negroes the equal protection of the laws as provided in the constitution of the United States.

President Harding and the present Congress know and are fully aware of this condition, yet Congress has thus far failed and refused to take any steps or enact sufficient adequate laws to protect the lives and property of the Negroes which are being ruthlessly taken without due process of law.

The Southern Senators and those who enjoy the lynching of the will be the first and loudest in their efforts to obstruct the measure, while others will consider it in the Senate.

The righteousness of the measure is so strong until the opponents find themselves without an excuse to oppose the bill, except to say it is unconstitutional without one scintilla of proof of their arguments.

The truth of the matter is, the lovers of the sport are those who hold human life wrapped in a dark skin cheap, want a little longer lease on mob-murder. They love the game.

THREE MORE LYNCHINGS

Within a week's time three lynchings have been reported as having taken place in the South.

Texas has added another to her lead with Georgia and Arkansas following.

Nothing, as will be expected, will be done toward punishing those who participated in this popular pastime.

The lynching and burning of Negroes in the South is not a case of outburst of passion brought about or caused by some vicious crime. But it has become an established program of dealing with Negroes suspected of crime. Not alone are those suspected of mob-murder, but in many cases, absolutely innocent persons have been lynched and burned at the stake.

"FIFTEEN YEAR OLDS"
IN GEORGIA AND IN JESSEY

By William Pickens

(For The Associated Negro Press)
A fifteen year boy was accused of raping a brown woman old enough, perhaps, to be his mother's mother, in Georgia.

A fifteen year old boy was accused of raping and murdering an eleven year old girl in New Jersey.

Persons not knowing of these boys will think of something. At least neither of them has ever been proven guilty of anything.

But it can be seen at a glance which boy was accused of the greater crime.

The difference in treatment accorded these two boys is the difference in the civilization and human culture of the people with whom they were raised.

The Government had better go into the east mining business and get protection as necessary to the production of coal.

The Government and the government of citizens of power to protect the lives of citizens If They Want To Do It, That is all.

Let us take some of the President's words in his own words and see how they could be applied in behalf of life.

Both boys maintained their complete innocence. The maintained Georgia boy was caught in a lie, but he told him that he did not confess he would be burned alive!

Of course, the thing to do, under that condition, would be to confess. But the boy had better not confess. He has to make it clear that they meant to burn him by all means and simply wanted a "conference" to justify that savagery as much as possible.

He refused, to "confess." They burned him until his skin hung loose.

In great torture the child after they took them to jail, beat him and forced him in an effort to save this hellish pain-as a child of fifty might have done.

But after he said what they wanted him to say, they then roasted him slowly and had a delicious good time cooking the life out of this helpless child.

In New Jersey the other boy was given his day in court, was thoroughly cross-examined, was not guilty and was therefore presumed to be innocent and was released.

What matters it that one of these boys was black and the other white. And in both cases, white.

And yet the present governor of Georgia got "insulted" because some one accused his state of being especially criminal.

SLAVES OF LANGUAGE

By Charles Calhoun

(For The Associated Negro Press)
Sometimes we white Americans see a black man who envies us. To me at least, such envy is always suspicious, though not necessarily threatening. We are not happy enough to envied.

Still we ought to be happy, happier at least than our ancestors. We belong to the race of two-legged vermin called men. Both of us have proved themselves better killers than the other vermin on this smallish of a planet.

Long ago we learned not to fight even each other to get together. We have learned to live together and have learned to do all sorts of ingenious things-to cover our bodies with the soft fur of the four-footed, and fill our bellies with their flesh; to cover our eyes with lids; to fly; to fly; to build houses and warm them; to compose sounds by methods approved by codes of conduct. Business, to provide for the kindred, or to have one without violence; to make one another's acquaintance by systems of mouth-noises, send tilings on pieces of paper, to add words to our language, to invent games, to create a god in our image, that we may worship ourselves with an appearance of humility. We have moreover, partly beyond our control, created somewhat different things. We are not happy enough to envied.

Notice that we inject a parenthesis, but otherwise do not change this last sentence at all, and it needs no change. You will notice that we have injected the protection of human life, if only the great President of the United States dared to give as much consideration to Black Men as to Black Ants.

Look to YOUR SENATORS!

By William Pickens

The anti-lynching bill has been reported out favorably by the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, with the exception of course, of the Democratic members.

Now it is up to you and your two senators. There should not now be a Negro in any state that has not written his senators about this matter-and Negroes of the South should also write.

Just as many Negroes as possible should write a letter at least to two senators. Write as many letters as you have hands, and send telegrams.

Then count your fingers and write again.

Get your Governor, your Mayor, your Congressman to write to them.

Pay no attention to the assertion from white or black, that the Senate Committee on the Judiciary and that the entire Senate are not interested and appreciate Art, Entertainment, Laughter. We have no time for these things. They are frivolous, and we work hard.

Assume that they have time to do things. We have more money than any other Nation. The rubber bands we make will stretch around Jupiter. We are learning to live like monkeys. More rubber bands and bottle stoppers.

We are advancing in Civilization. This is Progress. We Must Do Our Duty.

Two years ago, they said that all we needed was to find out what we were never doing.

What is the meaning of all this? This is the beginning of a new era, for another world? Our preparation. Work for the next generation? We are teaching the next generation the same thing. It is simply the sum total of our knowledge.

Every time I tried to understand, every time I tried to learn, I was met with more than he has; he uses his time increasing his personal income.

He covers his nose with his hand, which he will defend to the death. He lies himself to the word.

Negroes have feelings no common to women. If you have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors, and even though you have been told that an operation is the only way to cure you, still you have not been able to get well again.

WEAK WOMEN ATTENTION.

You suffer with FEMALE THROTTLES, such as ovarian pains, pains in the lower part of the stomach, swelling down to the kidneys, back-ache, etc. You have that same feeling as common to women. If you have tried all kinds of medicines and doctors, and even though you have been told that an operation is the only way to cure you, still you have not been able to get well again.

DO YOU WANT? MORE MONEY?

Go into business for yourself one way. We help you with all the goods and services you need for information today.
